

Sexual Exploitation

Are you at risk?

Many people are worried about not having enough money during Coronavirus.

Someone might try pressuring you to have sex or do sexual things for money, rent or food.

Someone you know or someone you met online might pressure you:

- To send naked photos or videos of yourself.
- To do sexual things in front of your webcam while they watch.
- Threaten to show your photos and videos to other people unless you send more.

- You might not like the sexual things they ask you to do but feel you have no choice.

You always have the right to say NO.

- It is a crime to share your images or video without your permission.
- If you feel unsafe at home, it is OK to leave.

How to get help:

- Tell someone you trust like a family member, friend, health worker or support worker.
- Call Rape Crisis Helpline on 08088 01 03 02
- Call the Police on 101. In an emergency dial 999.
